

Why is it such a problem for XM Radio to provide their listeners helpful traffic and weather services? FM, AM, and television have traffic and weather reports. Why can't XM? Why should I be forced to listen to the TERRIBLE FM stations in my town for info I need when I would rather get it from my XM radio, which is one of the best products going today. So instead trying to take away from XM radio, why don't you just try to improve the full FM and AM stations instead. And all that would do is make XM that much better.
